KURN HATTIN HOMES
a legacy of caring & success

a legacy of caring & success

Thousands of children have made Kurn Hattin Homes their “home away from home.” We regularly receive visits, calls, letters, emails, and social media posts confirming that our children have had exceptional experiences here that have changed their lives for the better. The following examples from alumni over the past several decades are just a sampling of this transformation:

- “Kurn Hattin is something that a lot of people don’t have. It’s a good experience and a network that you just can’t get anywhere else. It is supportive, and the staff really just want what is best for you. At the heart of Kurn Hattin the staff believes, ‘These are our kids. We’re going to take care of them, not just when they’re here, we’re going to continue mentoring them.’ It really feels like family.”
- “I can safely say that Kurn Hattin changed the trajectory of my entire life for the better. The houseparents, teachers, and staff all played an integral role in my personal and professional development...Without Kurn Hattin I’d be in a pretty bad place. I’m sure of it.”
- “Kurn Hattin changed me. The people there surrounded me, helped me, and shaped my future. They consistently demonstrated to me, as an adoptee, ‘I’m here for you, no matter what. We’re not leaving you. You’re not being sent away again. This is your home right now, and we care about you.’ Those were things I needed to hear. The routine and stability at Kurn Hattin were what I really needed. It was home for me.”
- “Kurn Hattin was the place where I started to learn to trust people again.”

These are just a few of the wonderful affirmations that come our way and help us to know that we are making a positive difference in the lives of children and our world! Success for our children might be defined differently than for other independent schools, but ultimately it comes down to being kind, caring, and able to function positively in society—a legacy of caring and success. That was, is, and always will be the legacy of Kurn Hattin Homes.

In the service of children,

Stephen B. Harrison
Executive Director

The children are the focus of everything we do at Kurn Hattin Homes. When we are considering programmatic and/or organizational changes to systems and structures, it always comes back to what would be in the best interest of the children. The Child Experience Committee was formed by the Board of Trustees in 2019 with exactly this intent—to focus on all the areas of what we do for the children in our care—residential, school, counseling, health services, admissions, outreach, and more—with the goal of providing them the best experiences and opportunities that we can in every way.

The central question for this Committee is whether we are being true to our mission while delivering the best possible experience to prepare each child to be successful for life beyond our campus. This means that the Child Experience Committee has been considering what success actually means for our KHH children. A second part of the work, once we can more clearly define the concept of success, is to determine how we measure that success. There are some metrics that we’re asked about repeatedly that we have data on and can provide accurate answers to those questions. For example, how many of our alumni graduate from high school, join the military, go on to a trade or vocational school, get an Associate’s Degree, graduate from college, and so on. Then there are the more intangible aspects of life that are very much a part of success and that are very challenging to define and to measure.

A solid foundation for success

“So many intangibles.” Right now, daily successes at KHH vary from child to child. During the summer rec program, individual successes meant things like demonstrating self-control while you wait for your turn to jump into the pool, learning to tie your shoe, catching a fish, helping a cottage mate do a chore, riding a bike without training wheels for the first time, or picking a full pint of blueberries all by yourself. The successes are as varied as the children themselves.

Susan Kessler

Assistant Executive Director

Our goal is for them to have fun and to experience things that will provide lifelong memories. At the same time, we want them to learn the key skills that they will need to navigate the world around them and to live independent lives.

There are so many intangibles involved in the consideration of all of this. Being productive citizens, having happy family lives, being able to support themselves, contributing in some way to the world around them, finding their passion and pursuing it, developing self-awareness, and knowing how to advocate appropriately for themselves in all kinds of situations are a small sampling of the skills we hope they will have when they leave KHH. How do we measure this? That is part of the ongoing work of the Child Experience Committee.

The work we are doing today builds on our solid foundation, our legacy of caring, and our Core Values to move us forward toward the successes of tomorrow.

REGINALD WATSON Class of 2015
Studies film at San Jose University. He wants to be a producer and is working on his first novel.

“ I would always attempt to divert any and all blame for my own mistakes and actions—a myriad of slipshod excuses that did nothing but color my integrity in a negative light. I learned the importance of owning one’s actions and thinking with intention prior to action. Hasty decisions and reckless behavior only beget shame (the self-pitying variety) and pointless consequences. As I gradually heeded the advice given to me from members of the Kurn Hattin community, a clarity began to wash over me—the sort that only occurs when the village has banded together in cultivating the youth. Kurn Hattin is that village—a warm, supportive home for children where they have another chance at receiving the love, care and attention they always deserved. My tendencies in shifting blame away from myself was a learned behavior from a toxic environment at home—but Kurn Hattin enabled me to unlearn it over time. Today, I understand the importance of owning my mistakes and learning from them—to take my lessons in stride and reformulate my plan of attack to avoid similar missteps. ”

Success comes in so many forms...

“ I feel very lucky to have been at Kurn Hattin. Because I had nowhere to go after the 8th grade, I was allowed to stay while I attended Bellows Falls High School. Kurn Hattin taught me not only academically but also how to play the trumpet and sing, cooking, sewing, cleaning, laundry, manners, and how to treat others with respect. When I left, I knew how to be independent and I have had a wonderful, productive, and happy life. I worked 57 years in the dental field. I had a wonderful 66-year marriage, and have two children, three grandchildren and six great grand-children. I have gone back to work part time as a school crossing guard and also work in the school cafeteria. I find it very rewarding working with the children. ”

“ I am very grateful that Kurn Hattin is here for kids who really need it, now and back when I was there.”After graduating in 1978, Kurn Hattin Homes helped Joy into beauty school and then she worked for a local salon for 12 years. She then took a small business management course, did a business plan, and opened Shear Designs Hair Studio & Tanning in Brattleboro, Vermont which is in its 26th year and has 12 employees. She cares deeply for the welfare of her employees and the community and was recognized as the 2019 Brattleboro Reformer’s Remarkable Women Business Leader. ”

For the past 15 years after Winter Break, the Hubbard Cottage girls have a spa day. The girls pair up and apply moisturizing lotion on arms and legs and soothing cucumber slices on the eyes, drink sparkling juices, and eat their favorite fruits. The day is capped with dessert first—strawberry shortcake, and dinner in their pajamas. You're never too young to learn about the joy and importance of self-care and relaxation!

It was the night of the first school dance. The boys were getting ready in their carefully selected outfits and slicked back hair. At least for tonight, they were no longer little boys but young men. This was their first ever experience going to a dance, and they entered and stuck together like glue. If one moved to get a refreshment, the others followed. If one boy decided to stand near a girl he liked, the others milled around a few feet away watching and waiting to see what would happen next. Did they dance? Not all of them. Not often. They were often seen sitting together lined up in a row of chairs on the side observing. They drank Shirley Temples, ate cookies, played with the balloons, and occasionally participated in some of the games and competitions that were organized. Middle school dances were uncharted territory for these young men, but they found comfort in one another like the home-away-from-home brothers that they truly are. The next dance would be a piece of cake. Maybe they would all dance.

As I participated in the recent 2022 Kurn Hattin graduation event, it occurred to me that the graduating students had spent two and a half years of their Kurn Hattin Homes experience during a global pandemic. While experiences between individuals and generations surely differ, this group's experience was most definitely unique. I thought about how their Kurn Hattin experience through a pandemic was similar to and different from their predecessors. I wondered how and if the outcomes of their Kurn Hattin experience differed.

I learned that the theme for this year's Annual Report is "A Legacy of Caring and Success" and that gave me a good frame of reference for my thoughts. Since a legacy is something handed down by one's predecessors, did the Kurn Hattin legacy of caring and success carry forward to this group? How did the long-standing core values of Perseverance, Nurturance, Hope, Compassion, and Sense of Worth guide their experience?

I found that while these students' paths through Kurn Hattin were quite different—including far less outside interactions, limited activities and events, and constant adapting and re-adapting—the core values and the commitment of the extraordinary Kurn Hattin staff produced a true (though clearly unique) Kurn Hattin experience. I found that these graduates and their classmates/roommates/friends achieved tremendous growth through this challenging time, and they leave the 2021-2022 school year a better version of their awesome selves.

While clearly a different version of the Kurn Hattin experience, I believe the Kurn Hattin legacy of caring and success carries on thanks to the commitment of the Kurn Hattin staff, volunteers, supporters, families, and of course, the incredible group of students.

Whichever one of those categories you find yourself in, on behalf of the Kurn Hattin Board of Trustees—
I thank you for all you do for our children.

Investing in their future
“the best possible
experience”

Stephen R. Fitch
Financial Manager

The theme of caring and success in financial terms is reflected in the investment and commitment of financial resources to provide the children with the best possible experience while at Kurn Hattin Homes. In Fiscal 2022, this included enhancing the technology on campus through the extension of the fiber network to all buildings, new computers for the students to use in their classrooms and cottages, and a new smart lab in the school. Ongoing improvements to the facilities and campus provide the kids with the best possible environment. This also included window replacement in the cottages, road paving, and a new state of the art HVAC control system in the school to regulate air temperature and air quality. The health and wellbeing of the children are also a resource priority. The most significant investment affecting the children’s wellbeing is in our staff. This past year there has been extensive staff training in a number of areas, a significant restructuring and improvement in the compensation for houseparents, and upgrades to staff computers.

Fiscal 2022 was also a year of challenges for Kurn Hattin Homes. Most notably was the decline in the investment market, and the impact on the endowment resulting in a -9.6% return for the fiscal year. We also experienced significant storm damage around the water pump house costing approximately $61,000 to repair.

Charitable giving totaled $2.7 million in Fiscal 2022. The financial support from donors continues to make it possible to positively impact the lives of children and their families. Gifts to the endowment, annual contributions, estate gifts, and outside trusts established by donors to provide annual income have made it possible to sustain Kurn Hattin Homes. As noted in the financial report on the next page, approximately 94% of Kurn Hattin’s operating income is from philanthropic sources. This sustainability will continue to depend on building the endowment through new gifts and annual donor support.

Financial Disclosure:The purpose of the Financial Annual Report is to inform the public and contributors of the financial position of the organization and to acknowledge and recognize the support of our Trustees and Contributors.

Our Financial Statements are examined by the firm of Oster & Wheeler of Keene, NH, a certified public accounting firm. Audits are conducted annually in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and include an assessment of accounting principles used as well as an evaluation of our financial procedures, controls and presentations.

Copies of the audited statements are available upon request at the Kurn Hattin office in Westminster, VT. The audited statements may reflect different classifications than presented above and will reflect investment unrealized gains or losses and other non-operating activity.

the best investment

In 1938, the country was in a depression.

My father was earning a dollar a day as a farm laborer, hardly enough to support a family of 8. Then the marriage broke up, my mother took the two younger boys and my father, the two elder. My father still needed to support all of us.

LEO LAWRENCE Class of 1943

Kurn Hattin Homes offered to help support half the tuition for my brother and me.

So at the age of 10, I went to KHH. I lived in Ainsworth Cottage where most of the kids were in the 4th to 6th grades. My housemother was strict but a loving person.

My brother was 8, and he lived in Dickey Cottage with Mrs. Duncan and her husband, Jim. They were a Scottish couple who loved children.

My hometown paid half the cost, and KHH donated the rest. Where did the money come from? From good people who donated to the Homes. Most graduates went on with enriched lives because of the KHH experience that shaped their lives. After 5 years at KHH, I entered a vocational trade school for 2 years. My KHH math and general science scores were high enough for me to be awarded a G.E.D. diploma.

At 16, I worked on building an air base in Maine. At 17, I signed up for 6 years in the Marine Corps. Upon discharge, I worked as an aircraft machinist for 35 years. I was married for 65 years until my wife passed. We have 5 children who are all educated beyond high school. I will be 94 soon. My hope is for all KHH kids to have as great a life as I have had.

Kurn Hattin was my home for 5 wonderful years. During those 1825 days, KHH paid $1.00 a day for us. Dad is gone now, but I repaid Kurn Hattin Homes for our tuition.

Thank you, Dad. That was the best investment you ever made!

pursuit of happiness

One day when a student was in my office for her regular counseling session, she said, “I think it is going to be a great day today.”

After she left, it reminded me that ones’ outlook on life is very much a choice. This student has had her fair share of disappointments, but she has made the conscious effort to look at each day as having great possibility. She may be one of the lucky ones predisposed to happiness, so I decided to ask her for more information.

She offered:
“I usually wake up and jump out of bed. I think about how I could make this day better. I try to forget about negative things, which is not always easy, but I just do it. I am surprised because my life has been hard. But I try to focus on making my future better. I try to be grateful for what I have and let people help me who are trying hard to help me. There are many people helping me at Kurn Hattin, and I try to use their advice. I also try to help others to be happier.”

“Try to look at the positive side of things. Ask a friend for advice. If you notice people who are positive, try hanging out with them. Negative people will just bring you down.”

This student is one of many reasons I have found my work as a counselor so rewarding. I hope we can all inspire one another to find more joy and happiness in our lives, and then pay it forward. This young woman is a true example of how Kurn Hattin Homes helps children see joy and potential in their lives, but also how that joy comes full circle.

“I’ve been here for 4 years. During my first few years, I was not fitting in, but now I’m in 6th grade and I have matured a lot. I still have some issues but I feel that I have done way better since I first came here. Kurn Hattin has done a lot to help me become me.”
