Kurn Hattin
Home and School for Children

“ I’ve been here eight years, and the best part of Kurn Hattin for me is the teachers ... and the food! The teachers are just really good here, they’re very nice.

ELIJAH
Class of 2025

For a child arriving at Kurn Hattin Home and School for Children, the first turning point often comes quietly.

It could be a warm hello from a houseparent, a bed made just for them, or a seat saved at the dinner table. For many, it’s the first time they feel truly safe, seen, and understood. Though the first days can be unfamiliar, steady routines soon bring comfort. Small certainties—when meals happen, where their classroom is, who they can talk to—become anchors in uncertain lives.

Then come moments of discovery: joining the band, reading aloud in class, planting in the garden, or running with teammates. Bit by bit, they begin to feel they belong. One day, they look in the mirror and see someone not just surviving, but thriving. That belief in themselves is the true turning point. It’s the beginning of a future they once couldn’t imagine, now suddenly within reach.

Every child deserves a fresh start. At Kurn Hattin, we offer that to children and the families who love them.

Families come to us during times of difficulty. Whether they’re facing financial stress, emotional hardship, or family disruption, they make the courageous choice to give their child the stability and care they need to grow.

Kurn Hattin offers more than a safe home or classroom. It’s a community of belonging. And for families, it’s a chance to regroup and stay connected through every step of their child’s growth. With your support, we provide these new beginnings and help shape the bright futures that follow. From a child’s first day on campus, their transformation takes root here and grows beyond their graduation and into the future.

When students cross the graduation stage, their eyes reflect hope. Some head to high school with honors. Others enter vocational programs or continue artistic pursuits. But all leave knowing they are capable, valued, and ready for what’s ahead.

That’s the power of a new beginning. That’s the promise of Kurn Hattin.

This report celebrates those journeys in the voices of the children themselves, reflecting on turning points from nervous first days to confident farewells.

Thank you for believing in new beginnings and helping build bright futures, one child at a time.

A LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Friends of Kurn Hattin,

This year's theme of new beginnings and bright futures couldn't be more fitting.

The theme captures the essence of what Kurn Hattin provides for the children and families we serve, and describes the exhilaration of renewal we are experiencing as an organization.

After years as Assistant Executive Director, with an enduring belief in this mission, I am honored to step into the role of Executive Director. This place has been part of my heart and life for many years, and I've seen firsthand how new beginnings can change the course of a child's life. I've also seen how strong communities like ours can grow, evolve, and increasingly make positive changes over time.

This is a season of fresh starts, not just for our students, but for Kurn Hattin itself. We're welcoming a number of new leaders in key roles, including in development, public relations, and program leadership. We're introducing an updated brand identity that reflects our values and bold vision. And, we're carrying forward the deep care and commitment that have always defined us, while renewing our focus on expanding our reach and broadening our impact.

I'm filled with hope for what lies ahead. Together, with your continued partnership, we will keep helping children and families find their footing, discover their strengths, and begin again with purpose. Thank you for believing in our work and for helping to build a future every child deserves.

With gratitude,

Sue Kessler

This is my first year here. I was a little nervous when I first got here, worried that I might not fit in.

I feel like I belong here now. I've made friends that made me feel like I was home. It's good to know I have people I can go to if I need help, both kids and adults.

I've learned a lot in class, but I've also learned how to control myself better than when I got here. I'm looking forward to middle school where I'll get to go to different classes. After that, I'd like to go to Milton Hershey School.

I want kids just getting here to know, it's okay not to fit in as soon as you walk in the door. Not everybody you meet is going to be a friend for the rest of your life, and sometimes it's okay to be on your own for a little bit, to get used to the environment.

Kurn Hattin
Home and School for Children

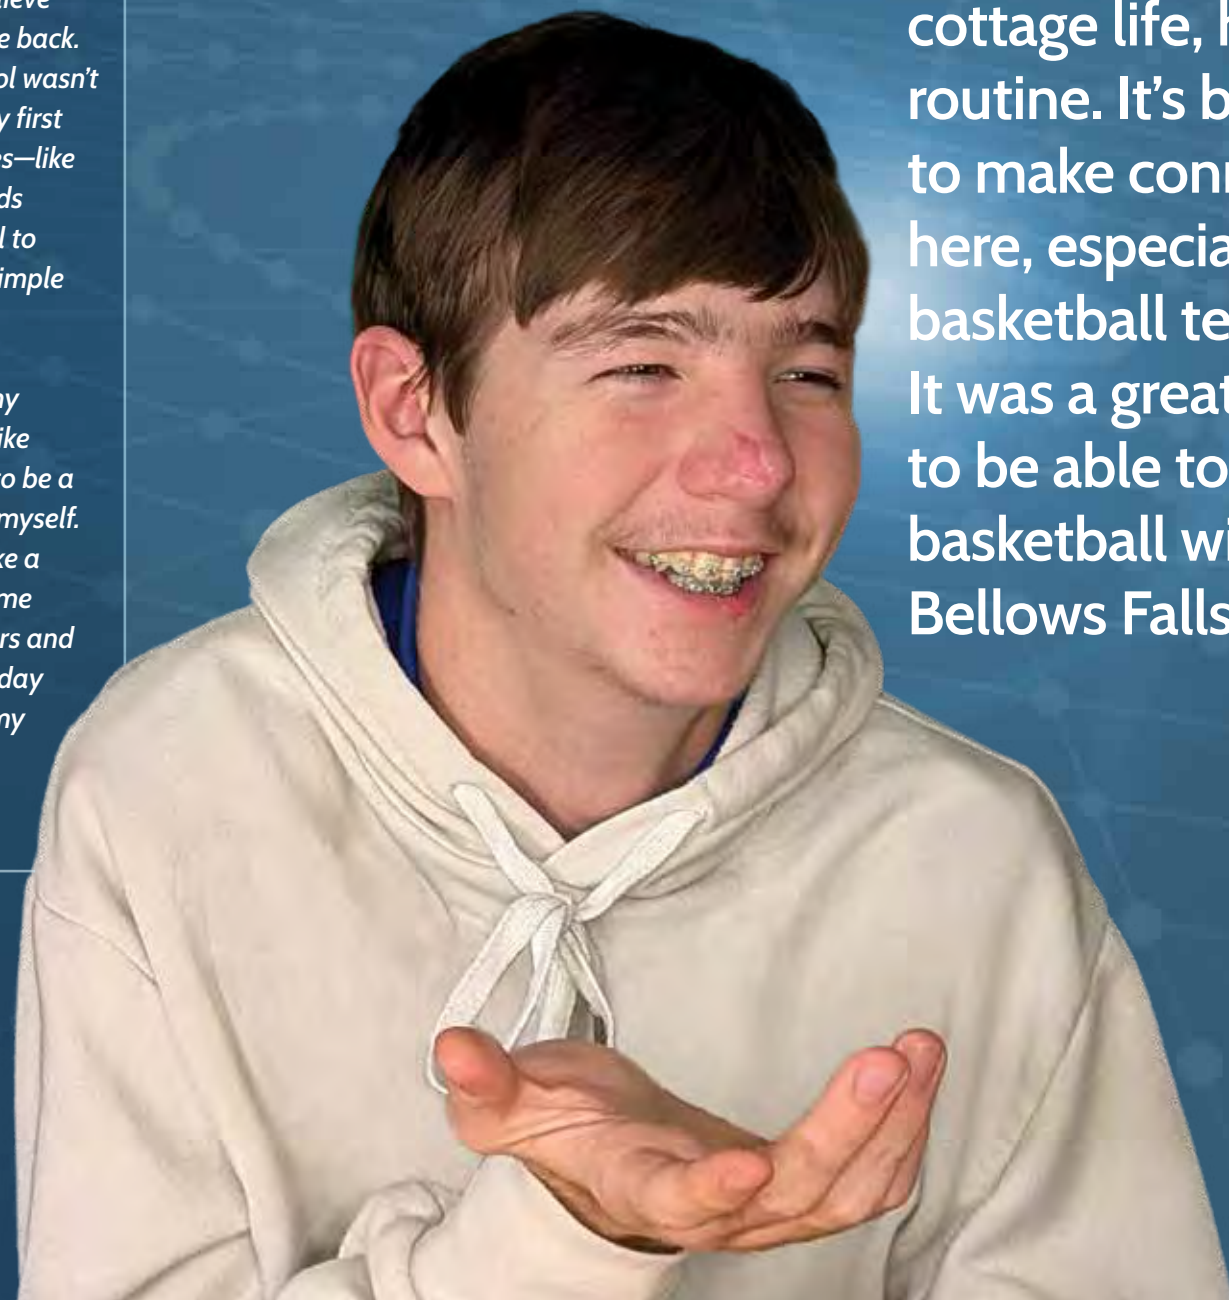

A few years ago, if you were to tell me I had to read a speech at graduation, I would most definitely not believe you and would probably argue back. Like most of you, middle school wasn't always easy for me. During my first years here, there were struggles—like getting along with the other kids in my cottage, being respectful to staff or even just following a simple instruction.

One thing that helped me in my time here was playing sports like basketball because I learned to be a better teammate and trust in myself. My time here has been a lot like a basketball game, actually. Some days there were some turnovers and missed shots, but here I am today reading this speech to you in my final minutes at Kurn Hattin, ready to hit the game winner.

I appreciate the structure here, the classes and cottage life, having a set routine. It's been easy to make connections here, especially with my basketball teammates. It was a great opportunity to be able to play basketball with the Bellows Falls team.

A LETTER FROM THE BOARD CO-PRESIDENTS

As Co-Presidents of the Kurn Hattin Board of Trustees, we are honored to help steward an institution that has been changing lives for over 130 years. While the legacy of Kurn Hattin runs deep, 2025 has been a powerful reminder that renewal is part of our DNA. This year brought meaningful change to every part of Kurn Hattin—in the school, in our administration building, to our brand identity, and on our Board of Trustees—reflecting a promise that remains unchanged: to offer children a safe, nurturing environment in which new beginnings lead to bright futures.

To the families who entrust us with their children, thank you. It's a profound responsibility and privilege. And to the dedicated staff, volunteers, Incorporators, and generous donors—your steadfast commitment makes transformation possible. From the first day a child steps onto our campus to the moment they step into their next chapter, your support surrounds them with care, opportunity, and hope.

We look forward to all that lies ahead, and we are grateful to be walking this path with you.

With deep appreciation,
Christopher Hackett and Eric Velto

A Fresh Look for a Bright Future

Updated image showing adult guidance for a child on their journey forward

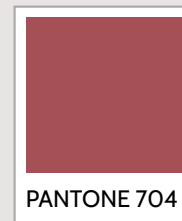

Updated clean type treatment

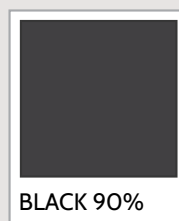

On July 1, 2025, Kurn Hattin introduced a refreshed brand to reflect both our legacy and our forward momentum. Our new name, Kurn Hattin Home and School for Children, highlights what's always been true: Kurn Hattin offers both a nurturing home and a strong educational foundation.

The updated logo and tagline, "New beginnings. Bright futures.," capture the heart of our mission. You'll see this new identity across campus and beyond—from signage and letterhead to newsletters and this annual report—serving as a daily reminder of what's possible here.

Thank you to our donors and supporters, our staff, and the entire Kurn Hattin community for your ongoing support as we move into this new chapter together.

I've been at Kurn Hattin for four years. I first came here in the summer, and while I was welcomed, I really felt comfortable in the fall when school started because some of my cousins were here with me.

I'm proud of my athletics here—I've won a lot of medals in track, including MVP of the CVL meet in Lebanon, New Hampshire. But I especially love basketball. Kurn Hattin worked with Bellows Falls Middle School to let some of us play on their team. We won a lot of games until we got to the finals! I've also played with the AAU. I don't think I'd be as good at basketball if I hadn't come here.

If I could talk to my younger self here, I'd tell him to tolerate people. I used to get so annoyed by others—but since I've been here, I've changed.

I've been at Kurn Hattin for five years, since I was five. It was scary at first because I didn't know anybody, but everyone was so supportive. They made me feel like I belong here. In my cottage, everyone is nice to me, and it feels like home.

ANNUAL REPORT FROM THE FINANCIAL MANAGER

I'm often asked why Kurn Hattin isn't like a traditional, tuition-funded residential school. The answer is simple: our mission doesn't align with a model where a child's attendance depends on a family's ability to pay. Admission to our program is based solely on the needs of the child and family, and on whether we can provide the support and positive change they need. No child is ever denied for financial reasons.

In fact, Kurn Hattin received less than $12,000 in financial support from families in the last fiscal year.

97.6% of the expenses in Fiscal 2025 was supported through philanthropic sources.

Our total budget is just over $6 million. This funds residential cottages, an accredited K-8 school, a dining facility, a state-of-the-art auditorium, health center, gym, pool, campgrounds, a working farm, and 280-acre campus. Kurn Hattin children make full use of all of this. However, our most powerful asset is the dedicated, caring staff who support their growth every day.

As the financial table shows, philanthropic support covered 97.6% of our FY2025 expenses. This includes $2.03 million in charitable giving (annual contributions, estate gifts, outside trusts, and gifts to the endowment), and $4.5 million in support from the endowment itself.

The endowment earned a 13.5% return in the past fiscal year, with a market value of $36.1 million as of June 30. Sustaining Kurn Hattin's mission into the future depends on continuing annual support and growing our endowment through new gifts.

On my first day here, I walked into the dining room, and everyone was really welcoming. I was nervous, but everybody comforted me. It only took a week or two for me to feel like I belonged here.

I feel like my voice is heard here. If I tell someone I have a problem, they always do their best to fix it.

After graduation from Kurn Hattin, I'm excited to work and do more for myself.
